11. Exemptions.— A supply or import shall be an “exempt” supply or import if —

- (a) it is specified as an exempt supply or import in the First Schedule of this Act or it is a supply of a right or option to receive a supply that will be an exempt supply;

- (a) if payment is made progressively or periodically, each separate supply corresponds to the proportion of the supply to which each separate part of the consideration relates; or
- (b) in any other case, each separate supply corresponds to each tax period, to the extent that the period of the lease or hire occurs during that tax period.

(4) A supply of goods under a hire purchase agreement shall not be treated as a progressive or periodic supply.

17. Ancillary or incidental supplies.— (1) Where a supply consists of more than one element, the following criteria shall be taken into account to determine how the supply is to be treated, namely:—

- (a) every supply shall normally be regarded as distinct and independent;
- (b) a supply that comprises a single supply from an economic point of view should not be artificially split;

- (c) the essential features of the transaction shall be ascertained in order to determine whether the customer is being supplied with several distinct principal supplies or with a single supply;
- (d) there is a single supply if one or more elements constitute the principal supply, in which case the other elements (“the ancillary or incidental supplies”) shall be treated as part of the principal supply; and
- (e) a supply must be regarded as ancillary or incidental to a principal supply if it does not constitute for customers an aim in itself, but is merely a means of better enjoying the principal thing supplied.

(2) A supply of services that is ancillary or incidental to an import of goods shall be treated as part of the import of goods.

18. Value of supply.— (1) The value of a taxable supply shall be the consideration for the supply, reduced by an amount equal to the consideration multiplied by the tax fraction.

(2) The value of a supply that is not a taxable supply shall be the consideration for the supply.

(3) If—

- (a) a registered person makes a taxable supply to an associated person for no consideration, or for a consideration that is lower than the open market price; and
- (b) the associated person would not be entitled to a full input tax credit for the purchase of the goods or services, the value of the supply is the open market price of the supply, reduced by the tax fraction of that price.

19. When tax becomes payable on supplies.— (1) Tax shall become payable on a taxable supply of goods or services at the earliest of:—

- (a) the time of supply;
- (b) the time when an invoice for the supply is issued by the supplier; or
- (c) the time when any part of the consideration for the supply is paid.

(2) Where a progressive or periodic supply is treated as a series of separate supplies, each such supply is treated as being made on the earliest of:—

- (a) if separate invoices are issued for each such supply, the date on which the applicable invoice is issued;
- (b) the date on which the payment corresponding to the supply is due;
- (c) the date on which any part of the payment corresponding to the supply is received;

- (d) the first day of the period, if any, to which the progressive or periodic payment relates; or
- (e) the first day on which the recipient is able to use or enjoy that supply.

20. Purchase of economic activity as a going concern.— (1) This section applies in respect of and to the extent that a sale or transfer of an economic activity as a going concern is zero-rated under this Act or under a Provincial Sales Tax Act.

(2) Where this section applies, the recipient of the supply must make an increasing adjustment if the economic activity was not purchased for a creditable purpose.

(3) The amount of the increasing adjustment is the tax rate specified in clause (b), sub-section (2) of section 9 multiplied by the consideration for that part of the supply that was zero-rated.

(4) The increasing adjustment shall be accounted for in the tax period in which tax would have been payable by the supplier if the supply had not been zero-rated.

(5) An increasing adjustment under this section shall be treated as both output and input tax of the registered person making the adjustment.

21. Second-hand goods purchased for on-sale.— (1) A registered person shall be treated as having incurred an amount of input tax on second-hand goods purchased for the purposes of sale or exchange, but not for manufacture, in the ordinary course of trade or business of selling second-hand goods, if all of the following conditions are met, namely:—

- (a) the goods are purchased from an unregistered person;
- (b) the supply of the goods to the registered person would not have been zero-rated or exempt if the goods had been purchased from a registered person;
- (c) the goods are not imported by the person;
- (d) the on-supply of the goods is a taxable supply; and
- (e) the person has kept such books and records relating to the purchase and on-sale as are prescribed by the Board.

(2) The amount of the input tax shall be the tax fraction of the price for which the registered person purchased the second-hand goods, calculated using the tax rate applicable to the on-sale of the goods by the person.

(3) The input tax shall be accounted for in the tax period in which the registered person sells the goods.

(4) Where second-hand goods are given by an unregistered person as part payment for new goods of a similar kind, the open market price of the traded-in goods used to determine the consideration for the new goods must be the same as the price referred to in sub-section (2).

22. Supply of goods and services made in Pakistan.— (1) A supply of goods shall be made in Pakistan if:—

- (a) the supplier is a resident of Pakistan;
- (b) the goods are delivered or made available in Pakistan; or
- (c) the supplier installs or assembles the goods in Pakistan.

(2) A supply of services shall be made in Pakistan if—

- (a) the supplier is a resident of Pakistan;
- (b) the supplier is a non-resident with a permanent establishment in Pakistan and the supply is made through that permanent establishment; or
- (c) the services are performed in Pakistan by any person who is in Pakistan at the time they are performed and the recipient is not a registered person.

(3) A supply of services shall be made in the Islamabad Capital Territory if it is made in Pakistan and—

- (a) in the case of a supplier who is a resident of Pakistan, if the place of business through which the supply is made is in the Islamabad Capital Territory;
- (b) in the case of a non-resident with a permanent establishment in Pakistan, if the permanent establishment through which the supply is made is in the Islamabad Capital Territory; or
- (c) in any other case, if proportionally more of the services are performed in the Islamabad Capital Territory than in any single Province.

(4) Where a progressive or periodic supply is deemed to be a series of separate supplies, the place where each such supply takes place shall be determined separately.

(5) A non-resident who makes a supply of goods or services in Pakistan and does not have a permanent establishment in Pakistan shall—

- (a) appoint a Sales Tax representative in Pakistan; and
- (b) furnish such security

as may be specified by the Board.

23. Export of goods etc.— (1) A sale of goods shall be zero-rated—

- (a) if the supplier has entered the goods for export under the Customs Act and the goods have been exported;

- (b) in the case of a supply of goods made to a tourist or visitor, if the supplier is a licensed duty-free vendor who holds documentary evidence, collected at the time of the supply, which establishes that the goods are to be removed from Pakistan without being effectively used or enjoyed in Pakistan.

(2) A supply of goods shall be zero-rated if the goods are located outside Pakistan at the time of supply and will not be imported into Pakistan, or installed or assembled in Pakistan, by the supplier.

(3) Subject to sub-section (4), a supply of goods shall be zero-rated if it is made in the course of repairing, maintaining, cleaning, renovating, modifying, treating, or otherwise physically affecting other goods that are—

- (a) temporarily imported into Pakistan under a special regime for temporary imports specified in the Customs Act or any other provision of the customs laws dealing with temporary imports; or
- (b) brought temporarily into Pakistan for the purpose of receiving the services, so long as the goods are removed from Pakistan after the services have been performed and have not been used in Pakistan for any purpose other than to enable the services to be performed.

(4) A supply of goods shall not be zero-rated under sub-section (2) unless the goods supplied are attached to or become part of those other goods, or become unusable or worthless as a direct result of being used to repair, renovate, modify or treat the other goods.

(5) A supply of goods shall be zero-rated if it relates to the repair or replacement of goods under warranty and—

- (a) the supply is provided under an agreement with, and for consideration given by, the warrantor, who is a non-resident and is not a registered person; and
- (b) the goods under warranty were previously subject to tax when imported.

(6) A supply shall not be zero-rated under this section if it is exported to a country specified by the Federal Government by notification in the official Gazette.

(7) The burden of proving that a taxable supply of goods or services is zero-rated under this section shall be on the supplier.

24. Special rules where tax reverse charged to recipient.—(1) The value of a taxable supply of services that is not made in Pakistan shall be—

- (a) if the supplier and recipient are related persons, the open market price of the supply, reduced by the tax fraction of that price; or
- (b) in any other case, the consideration for the supply.

(2) Tax payable by the recipient of a taxable supply of services that is not made in Pakistan shall be both output tax and input tax of that person.

(3) If an adjustment event occurs in relation to a supply of services not made in Pakistan that is, or would be because of the adjustment event, a taxable supply, the recipient of the supply of services shall be treated as if he were also the supplier of the services.

(4) For the purposes of this section, if a registered person carries on economic activities both at a fixed place in the Islamabad Capital Territory and at a fixed place outside Pakistan—

- (a) the person shall be treated as two separate persons corresponding respectively to the taxable activities the person carries on at each place;
- (b) the person outside Pakistan shall be deemed to have made a supply of services to the person inside the Islamabad Capital Territory consisting of any benefit in the nature of services (as defined for the purposes of this Act) that is received by the person in the Islamabad Capital Territory through or as a result of the activities carried on by the person outside Pakistan;
- (c) the time of the supply shall be determined on the assumption that a supply has been made; and
- (d) the value of the services shall be determined on the assumption that the supply was made by a non-resident outside Pakistan to an associated person inside the Islamabad Capital Territory.

25. Services consumed outside Pakistan.— (1) This section applies to a supply of services that is made in the Islamabad Capital Territory.

(2) A supply of services physically performed on goods situated outside Pakistan at the time the services are performed shall be zero-rated.

(4) A supply of services directly in connection with goods temporarily imported into Pakistan under a special regime for temporary imports specified in the Customs Act dealing with temporary imports shall be zero-rated.

(5) A supply of services shall be zero-rated if it consists of the repair, maintenance, cleaning, renovation, modification, or treatment of goods brought temporarily into Pakistan, so long as the goods are removed from Pakistan after the services have been performed and are not used in Pakistan except to the extent required to perform the services.

(6) A supply of services that are typically performed directly in the physical presence of individuals receiving the services shall be zero-rated if the services are performed outside Pakistan.

(7) Subject to sub-section (8), a supply of services shall be zero-rated if—

- (a) the services are not directly connected with land or goods situated in Pakistan at the time of supply; and
- (b) the recipient of the supply is—
 - (i) a non-resident who is outside Pakistan at the time of supply; or
 - (ii) a person who is outside Pakistan at the time of supply and who will effectively use or enjoy the services outside Pakistan.
- (8) A supply of services shall not be zero-rated under sub-section (7) if:—

26. Payment of tax payable on supplies.— (1) The output tax payable by a registered person shall be accounted for and paid, in such manner and mode as prescribed, at the time of filing the return for the tax period during which it became payable.

(2) The amount payable under sub-section (1) shall be increased or decreased by adjustments allowed or required in relation to the tax period, whether or not such adjustment is listed in the sub-sections below.

(3) The liability to pay an amount of tax arises by operation of this section and does not depend on making an assessment of the tax due.

(4) Except as otherwise provided, the amount to be paid by a registered person under sub-section (1) shall be increased by all or any of the following, namely:—

- (a) an increasing adjustment required under section 31 for an adjustment event;
- (b) an increasing adjustment required under section 32 for a bad debt;
- (c) an increasing adjustment required under section 33 for goods applied to a private purpose;
- (d) an increasing adjustment required on cancellation of registration;
- (e) an increasing adjustment required under section 36 where there is a change in the tax rate;
- (f) an increasing adjustment required under section 38 for the tax that has been withheld;
- (g) a default surcharge, fine, penalty, fee, or other sum imposed and payable under this Act or a Provincial Sales Tax law.

(5) The amount to be paid by a registered person under sub-section (1) shall be reduced first by all or any of the following, namely:—

- (a) the amount of an advance payment of tax made by the person in accordance with section 37; and
- (b) an amount withheld from a payment to the person in accordance with section 38:

Provided that where the result of the subtraction is a negative amount, that amount shall be refundable without carry forward and in such manner as may be prescribed by the Board.

(6) Except as otherwise provided, after taking into account any decreasing adjustments required under sub-section (5), the amount to be paid by a registered person under sub-section (1) shall be further reduced by all or any of the following, namely:—

- (a) an amount equal to the input tax that may be accounted for and deducted in that tax period;
- (b) a decreasing adjustment allowable under section 31 for an adjustment event;
- (c) a decreasing adjustment allowable under section 32 for a bad debt;
- (d) a decreasing adjustment allowable on becoming registered; or
- (e) a decreasing adjustment allowable for a negative amount carried forward from a previous tax period in accordance with section 39.

27. Deductions for input tax.— (1) A registered person may deduct input tax only if, and to the extent that, the goods or services on which the input tax was imposed:

- (a) were supplied to or imported by the person; and
- (b) were purchased or imported by the person for a creditable purpose.

(2) Goods or services are purchased or imported by a registered person for a creditable purpose if and only if—

- (a) they are purchased or imported in the course of the person's economic activity; and
- (b) for the purpose of taxable supplies made, or to be made by, the person.

(3) Where an approved non-profit charitable organization purchases goods or services, or imports goods, for a purpose other than exempt supplies made or to be made by such organization, the Board may, subject to such conditions, limitations, or restrictions as it determines, treat the goods or services as having been purchased or imported for the purpose of making taxable supplies.

28. Restrictions on input tax deductions.— (1) No deduction for input tax is allowed unless, at the time of filing the return in which the input tax is deducted, the person making the deduction holds,—

- (a) in the case of goods imported by the person, a bill of entry or goods declaration bearing the name and active registration number of the importer, and duly cleared by the Customs department under section 79 or section 104 of the Customs Act;
- (b) in the case of a supply of goods to the person, a valid tax invoice issued by the supplier;
- (c) in the case of a supply of services to the person, if the supply is made in Pakistan, a valid tax invoice issued by the supplier.

(2) Despite sub-section (1), the Board may allow a person to provide alternative evidence that it has incurred input tax for which a deduction is sought.

(3) Where a supply of services that is not made in Pakistan is a taxable supply, the recipient of the supply may not deduct the input tax for that supply unless the recipient has also paid the output tax imposed on the supply.

(4) No deduction for input tax is allowed for a taxable supply the price of which exceeds rupees fifty thousand, including tax, unless payment for the supply is made through verifiable banking instrument, including on-line or credit card payment showing transfer of money from a bank account of the recipient to a bank account of the seller.

(5) No deduction for input tax incurred on a purchase or import is allowed if, or to the extent that—

- (a) the purchase or import is of a passenger vehicle, or of spare parts or repair and maintenance services for such vehicle, unless the person's economic activity involves dealing in or hiring out such vehicles and the vehicle was purchased for that purpose;
- (b) the purchase or import is used to provide entertainment, to the extent of that use, unless the person's economic activity involves providing entertainment and the entertainment is provided in the ordinary course of that economic activity and is not supplied to a related person or employee; or
- (c) the purchase is of a membership or right or entry for any person in a club, association, or society of a sporting, social, or recreational nature.

29. Apportionment of input tax.— (1) Where a registered person—

- (a) purchases goods or services or imports goods only partly for a creditable purpose; or
- (b) a restriction on deducting the input tax only partly applies, the person may deduct only such proportion of the input tax as shall be prescribed by the Board.

30. When input tax is deductible.— The tax period in which the input tax may be accounted for and deducted is the later of,—

- (a) the tax period in which the input tax became payable; or
- (b) if the person did not deduct the input tax in that period, any one of the six succeeding tax periods.

31. Post-supply adjustments for adjustment events.— (1) For the purpose of this Act, an adjustment event occurs in relation to a supply of goods or services if—

- (a) the supply is cancelled;
- (b) the consideration for the supply is altered;
- (c) the goods or services or part thereof are returned to the supplier; or
- (d) the nature of a supply is fundamentally varied or altered in such a way that the supply becomes, or ceases to be, a taxable supply.

(2) If an adjustment event occurs and the tax previously accounted for by the supplier is less than the tax properly payable on the supply, the supplier shall—

- (a) make an increasing adjustment, equal to the amount of the difference, in the tax period in which the adjustment event occurs; and
- (b) issue a valid debit note to the recipient of the supply.

(3) Where sub-section (2) applies, if the recipient is a registered person, the recipient may make a decreasing adjustment in the tax period in which the debit note is received, equal to the amount of the difference, reduced in accordance with section 29 and any other rules restricting the person's entitlement to an input tax credit for the goods or services supplied.

(4) If an adjustment event occurs and the tax actually accounted for by the supplier exceeds tax properly payable on the supply, the supplier—

- (a) shall issue a valid credit note to the recipient of the supply; and
- (b) subject to sub-section (5), may make a decreasing adjustment, equal to the amount of the difference, in the tax period in which the adjustment event occurs or, if the person did not make the decreasing adjustment in that period, any one of the six succeeding tax periods.

(5) A decreasing adjustment is not allowed unless,—

- (a) if the recipient is a registered person, the supplier holds evidence that the recipient received the credit note; or
- (b) if the recipient is not a registered person, the supplier has repaid the excess tax to the recipient, whether in cash or as a credit against any amount owing to the supplier by the recipient.

(6) Where sub-section (4) applies, if the recipient is a registered person—

(a) the recipient shall make an increasing adjustment in the earlier of the tax period in which the adjustment event occurs or the tax period in which the credit note is received; and

(b) the amount of the increasing adjustment is,—

- (a) if the recipient was entitled to deduct all of the input tax on the original purchase, the amount of the difference;
- (b) if the recipient was entitled to deduct only a proportion of the input tax on the original purchase, an appropriate proportion of the amount of the difference; or
- (c) if the recipient was not entitled to a credit for the input tax on the original purchase, nil.

(7) For the purposes of clause (b) of sub-section (5),—

(a) if a supplier refunds part or all of the price paid because of an adjustment event covered by clauses (a) to (c) of sub-section (1), unless there is evidence to the contrary, the amount refunded should be presumed to include an amount of tax equal to the tax fraction of the amount refunded;

(b) if a supplier refunds an amount because of an adjustment event covered by clause (d) of sub-section (1), unless there is evidence to the contrary, the amount refunded should be presumed to be the amount of tax that is no longer payable.

32. Post supply adjustments for bad debts.— (1) This section applies if all or part of the consideration for a taxable supply has not been paid to the supplier.

(2) If all or part of the consideration for a supply is not paid to the supplier and the supplier has, in its books of account, written off the amount unpaid as a bad debt, the supplier may make a decreasing adjustment under section 31 as if there had been an adjustment event altering the consideration for the supply.

(3) The adjustment is allowable in the tax period in which the debt is written off as bad.

(4) Whether or not the supplier has written off the amount unpaid as a bad debt, if the amount has been overdue for more than six months the recipient shall make an increasing adjustment under section 31 as if there had been an adjustment event altering the consideration for the supply.

(5) The recipient is not required to make an increasing adjustment under sub-section (4) if, and to the extent that the person,—

- (a) was not entitled to claim a deduction for the input tax in relation to the supply; or
- (b) has previously made an increasing adjustment in relation to the supply under section 31.

(6) If, after a supplier has made an adjustment for a bad debt, or a recipient has made an adjustment for an overdue debt, the recipient pays to the supplier part or all of the previously unpaid amount, further adjustments shall be made in order to ensure that,—

- (a) for the supplier, the output tax paid is equal to the tax fraction of the consideration actually paid; and
- (b) for the recipient, the input tax deductible is the appropriate proportion of the tax fraction of the consideration actually paid.

(7) Where a supplier claims a decreasing adjustment under this section, the burden of proving that an amount was not paid and that the debt is bad shall be on the supplier.

(8) A supplier is not required to give a recipient a credit note in relation to a bad or overdue debt and a recipient's obligation to make an increasing adjustment does not require a credit note to have been issued.

33. Adjustments for goods applied to a private purpose.— (1) A registered person has an increasing adjustment if the person,—

- (a) is or has been allowed an adjustment for input tax in respect of part or all of the input tax incurred on a purchase of goods or services, or on an import of goods; and

(b) applies those goods or services wholly to a private use from a particular time onwards.

(2) The amount of the increasing adjustment is the tax fraction of the open market price of the goods or services at the time they are first applied to the private purpose.

(3) If the person was only allowed an adjustment for part of the input tax relating to the purchase or import of the goods or services, the increasing adjustment is reduced to reflect the extent to which no input tax credit was allowed.

(4) If a registered person applies to a private use goods or services produced by the person, the person has an increasing adjustment if the supply of those goods or services by the person would have been a taxable supply.

(5) For the purposes of this section, goods or services shall be considered to have been applied to a private use if fifty per cent or more of the use to which the person will put the goods or services will not be for the purpose of the person's economic activity.

34. Adjustments on cancellation of registration.— (1) A person whose registration is cancelled has an increasing adjustment in relation to assets on hand at the time the registration is cancelled if the person was allowed an input tax credit in respect of the purchase or import of those assets, or for goods or services which have been subsumed into those assets.

(2) The amount of the adjustment is equal to the tax fraction of the open market price of the assets on the day immediately preceding the cancellation.

(3) The adjustment shall be accounted for in the tax return for the final tax period.

35. Adjustments on becoming registered.—(1) A person who becomes registered shall be entitled to a decreasing adjustment in relation to goods verifiably held by the person at the end of the last day before the registration takes effect if all of the following conditions are met:—

(a) the goods were imported by or supplied to the person in the thirty days prior to the person becoming registered;

(b) the supply or import, as applicable, was a taxable supply or import;

(c) the person acquired the goods for a creditable purpose and would have been entitled to deduct input tax for the import or acquisition if it had occurred on the day the person became registered.

(2) The maximum amount of the decreasing adjustment is equal to the lesser of—

(a) the amount of tax paid by the person on the import, or payable by the supplier who made the supply to the person; and

(b) the tax fraction of the fair market price of the goods at the time the person becomes registered.

(3) The decreasing adjustment shall be calculated and claimed in accordance with sections 27, 28, 29, and 30.

36. Adjustments when rate changes.— (1) A registered person shall make an increasing adjustment if, because of sub-section (4) of section 9 and clauses (a) and (c) of sub-section (l) of section 19, that person has accounted for tax in relation to a particular supply at a rate lower than the rate actually applicable to the supply.

(2) The amount of the increasing adjustment is the difference between the amount of tax actually accounted for and the amount of tax that is correctly payable in relation to the supply.

(3) Where sub-section (1) applies, the recipient of the supply may make a corresponding decreasing adjustment to ensure that any input tax it was allowed to deduct correctly reflects the tax payable by the supplier.

37. Advance payment of tax on import of goods.- The Board may require any person or class of persons to make advance payment of tax not exceeding twenty five percent of the rate specified in section 9 for prospective value addition of any goods or class of goods imported by such person or class of persons.

38. Withholding by Government and Large Taxpayers.- The Board may specify any person or class of persons as withholding agent for the purpose of deduction and deposit of tax on the purchase of goods at the rate not exceeding twenty five percent of the rate specified in section 9.

Chapter-V

REFUNDS

39. Carry forward and refund of negative net amount for a tax period.- Subject to sub-section (5) of section 26, if, in any tax period, the amount payable under that section would be a negative amount because the sum of all the decreasing adjustments allowed in the tax period exceeds the sum of all the amounts of output tax and increasing adjustments for that tax period, the excess shall be carried forward and may be deducted in the following six tax periods in accordance with this section.

(2) A registered person shall be allowed a decreasing adjustment for an excess amount carried forward from a particular tax period (“the relevant tax period”) as follows,—

(a) in the following tax period, if after taking account of all other decreasing adjustments, including decreasing adjustments carried forward from earlier tax periods, there remains an amount of tax payable, the person shall be allowed a decreasing adjustment for such part of the excess amount carried forward from the relevant tax period as would reduce the amount payable to nil; and

- (b) the process described in clause (a) is continued until either—
 - (i) all of the excess amount carried forward has been deducted; or
 - (ii) part or all of the excess amount has been carried forward for six tax periods.

(3) If part or all of the excess amount has been carried forward for six tax periods without being deducted—

- (a) and the amount does not exceed rupees one thousand, the amount shall continue to be carried forward until it is reduced to nil; or
- (b) in any other case, the Board shall refund the amount, on application in the form and manner prescribed by the Board, within forty-five days of such application.

40. Refunds without carry forward.- (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in section 39, a registered person shall be entitled to a refund of a negative amount payable under section 26 if the Board is satisfied that,—

- (a) fifty per cent or more of the person's turnover is or will be from supplies that are zero-rated exports;
- (b) fifty per cent or more of the person's expenditure on inputs is from purchases or imports that relate to making supplies that are zero-rated exports; or
- (c) in any other case, the Board is satisfied that the nature of the person's business regularly results in excess input tax credits:

Provided that the Board may require a negative amount not exceeding rupees one thousand to be carried forward in accordance with section 39.

(2) Refund shall be paid by the Board on application in the form and manner prescribed in this behalf within forty-five days of such application.

41. Application and payment of refunds.- (1) No refund is payable to a person under section 39 or section 40 unless and until the applicant has filed all tax returns up to the current tax period.

(2) If a refund is payable to a person, the Board may apply the refund first in reduction of any outstanding tax liability of the person under this Act, or against payment of any other taxes, levies, or duties collected by the Board, including any unpaid amounts under repealed tax laws.

(3) If the amount remaining after applying sub-section (2) does not exceed rupees one thousand, the Board may choose not to refund the amount and may instead require the registered person to treat the amount as a decreasing adjustment in a tax period specified by the Board.

42. Refunds to diplomats, non-profit bodies, and other international bodies.- (1) The Board may authorize the payment of a refund of part or all of the input tax incurred in relation to a purchase or import by—

- (a) a public international organization, foreign government, or any other person prescribed by the Federal Government to the extent the organization, government, or person is entitled to exemption from tax under an international assistance agreement;
- (b) a person to the extent that the person is entitled to exemption for tax under the Vienna Convention on Diplomatic Relations, or under another international treaty or convention having force of law in Pakistan or to which Pakistan is a signatory, or under recognized principles of international law; or
- (c) a diplomatic or consular mission of a foreign country established in Pakistan, relating to transactions concluded for the official purposes of such mission.

(2) A claim for a refund under sub-section (1) shall be made in the form and manner, and at the time prescribed by the Board, and must be accompanied by such supporting documentation as the Board may require.

(3) The Board shall, within two months after the date on which an application for a refund is made under this section,—

- (a) make a decision in relation to the application and give the applicant notice of the decision, stating the amount refundable and providing reasons for any difference between that amount and the amount for which a refund was requested; and
- (b) pay the amount refundable to the applicant.

Chapter-VI

REGISTRATION

43. Requirement to register.— (1) A person is required to be registered under this Act from a particular day in any month if the person exceeds the registration threshold in the period of twelve months ending at the end of that month.

(2) A person exceeds the registration threshold in a particular twelve month period if the total value of supplies made, or to be made, by the person in the course of an economic activity during that period is equal to or greater than rupees seventy five hundred thousand.

(3) For the purpose of this section,—

- (a) the following shall not be counted in the total value of a person's supplies, namely:—
 - (i) subject to sub-clause (b), the value of a supply that is not taxable, or would not be taxable if the person were registered;

- (ii) the value of a sale of a capital asset of the person;
 - (iii) the value of a supply made solely as a consequence of selling an economic activity or part of that economic activity as a going concern; or
 - (iv) the value of supplies made solely as a consequence of permanently ceasing to carry on an economic activity;
- (b) a supply that is not a taxable supply under this Act shall not be excluded by sub-clause (i) of clause (a) if it is a taxable supply under a Provincial Sales Tax law;
- (c) the value of supplies made by an associated person shall be counted in the total value of a person's supplies if the Board is satisfied that it is appropriate to include such supplies due to the nature of the activities carried out by the associated person, the connections between the persons or between the economic activities carried on by them, and any other relevant factors, provided that the Board must give the person notice of the requirement to include the value of the associated person's supplies and an opportunity to be heard.

44. Voluntary registration.— (1) A person who carries on an economic activity but is not required to be registered may apply for voluntary registration at any time.

(2) If a person is not required to be registered and applies for voluntary registration, the Board may register the person if the Board is satisfied that—

- (a) the person is making, or will make, supplies that would be taxable under this Act or under a Provincial Sales Tax law if the person were registered;
- (b) the person has a fixed place at which the person's economic activity is carried on;
- (c) there are reasonable grounds to believe that the person will keep proper records and file regular and reliable returns; and
- (d) if the person has commenced carrying on an economic activity, the person has—
